Protection on Steamboats-Tobacco Regulations-Pleasanton's Decisons-The Indian Commissionership.

The following plan to protect life on steam-boats has just been referred by Secretary Boutwell to the Board of Steamboat Inspec-tors: To have separate and independent tors: To have separate and independent water and steam gauges on a conspicuous part of the passenger deck, plainly labeled safety gauges, water and steam, surrounded with a case or cases, under lock and key, the latter to be kept by the inspector, whose duty it shall be to examine them carefully, to see to it that they are in perfect working order, especially should there be any disagreement with the engineers' gauges. They should show by a sliding indicator the pounds of pressure allowed and the minimum water line of safety, so that any passenger may see line of safety, so that any passenger may see at a glance when his life and limbs are in danger, and raise the alarm.

In response to queries from numerous Western cigar manufacturers as to whether they are compelled to show their astual invoice of purchases of leaf tobacco, Commissioner Douglass replies that while they may not be compelled to show the assistant asses-sor the actual invoices of purchases of leaf tobacco, they are required to enter in the manufacturer's book accurate accounts of the quantity of leaf tobacco purchased from time o time, either with or without invoices of the same, and this book must at all times be open to the inspection of the assistant asses-

The Cholera Approaching. [From the Cincinnati Gazette's Special of this morn ing.]

There is considerable alarm about the ap proach of the cholera, and many persons are laying plans to leave the city as soon as the disease arrives. As the cholera has been an-nounced already in Hull and London, the belief is quite general among physicians that it will arrive here in September. New York is badly prepared for cholera, and if it should get a fair start in the city it would carry off many victims. Most of the lower wards of the city are in a filthy condition. Roosevelt Vandewater, Baxter and similar streets smell like cess pools, and their gutters are full of garbage. Some of the streets have not been garbage. Some of the streets have not been swept this month, and there is a large accu-mulation of dirt. The Board of Health met to-day, and it is understood they resolved upon immediate measures, but unless they have the co-operation of the Street Commissioners they can not accomplish much. Broadway, the avenues and most of the uptown streets are kept reasonably clean, but there is great carelessness about localities where cholera would be likely to make its greatest ravages. The quarantine officers have been instructed to keep a vigilent watch over all vessels form infected ports, and take great care about allowing passengers to come o the city. A private dispatch received to-night, says several emigrants on one of the German steamers sailing for New York a few days ago were exposed to cholera just before their departure, and it is feared the disease may appear among them at sea.

BIGAMIST BOWEN REDIVIVUS. Extraordinary Reception of the Martyr on Edisto Island, South Carolina—The Darkies Wild with Enthusiasm Over Their Beloved.

[From the Charleston News, August 10.]

The belligerent Bowen has again assumed his war paint and feathers, and is on the war-path. His plan of campaign is to lure the credulous colored masses to retired groves the credulous colored masses to retired groves upon the islands of the sea by such devices as the seductive ginger cake and the exuberant root beer, and, having exhibited to them such dainties, to inflict upon them speeches from improvised and rustic platforms, wherein he lays his hand upon his heart, and begs to know if they, his audience, whom he is glad to see and proud to call his brethren, can believe of him, who thus addresses them, the scandalous and wicked tales that are spread broadcast by the malicious emisthem, the scandalous and wicked tales that are spread broadcast by the malicious emissaries of the Evil One, by which he begs to be understood as meaning the Democrats, whose hearts are deceifful above all things and desperately wicked? Whereupon his dusky audience, with a lively sense of ginger cake to come, respond with shouts of "Hear," "Ki yi?" "Bress de Lamb," and in divers other incoherent and irrelevant manners, express their hearty reverence for the gentle Bowen, and their high appreciation of the bovine barbecue. A love feast of this character took place lust Saturday night, at the camp ground on Edisto Island. It is de-scribed with gushing enthusiasm by some of its attendants, and from all accounts it must St. Peterseure, August 18.—Prince Gortschakoff has prepared and presented to the Czar of Russia a full report of the reception of the deputation of the Evangelical Alliance, and of the proceedings which transpired during the interview between the Prince and the deputation. Next a rush was made for Bowen by the effusive shades, who refused to be pacified except by shaking hands with their new aposfile. They hustled him off the platform, and, stretching their numbers out in two long lines, the shaking of hands began. The martyred orator passed down the center, his arms on either side working up and down, as selved by the dusky gauntlet, and looking like the levers of an erratic pump. Old blind men, toothless and tottering, came and put their hands upoff him because they "wanted to see dis man Boweft;" women jostled out of to see dis man Bowen;" women jostled out of the line by the stronger men, reached their hands through the ranks, plucked the hem of Bowen's garments, and shouted with rapture, "I touched 'um!" and mothers brought rags and handkerchiefs, laid them up against their new found Moses, and took them away to lay on their sick babies. CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE has written to some friend in Parkersburg, West Virginia, what might be construed into a bid for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. The subject of it is a positive and emphatic endorsement of the "new departure."

THE movement of the Bavarian Catholics under the lead of Dr. Doellinger, promises to become of more importance than a that Bismarck means to make his political management conform to the religious suggestions of the new protestant idea, Germany may be set down as lost to the Papacy, and such an event would illustrate the truism that history repeats itself. Since Luther's revolt tore away so large a portion of the church there has been no loss that has not been more than made good by customary growth. Now, if Dr. Doellinger should prove a second Luther, and lead away the remaining Catholics of Germany, it will come about that the two great blows inflicted upon the church have been given by Germans, and made formidable by German influence.

HERE are a few statistics about the population of Japan, furnished by the Yokohama Herald: The "Daimios," or ennobled aristocracy, with their relatives, number 3,186, and the "Samurari," or the literary and military orders, amount to 1,872,959. The priests number 408,009, of whom 244,689 are Buddhists, and 163,140 belong to the "Sintoo" priesthood. The latter profess the religion of the Court and the higher circles of the State. The industrial population, consisting of farmers, artificers, shopkeepers and laborers, number 31,954,821 souls. Underneath the above classes are 456,695 persons, composing the "Yeta" or interdicted class, the members of which live in separate villages, perform the lowest trades, such as those of tanners and skinners, and are considered as the "Pariahs" of Japan. including the blind, the deaf and the dumb, and the lame, are estimated to number 82,920. The entire population, therefore, amounts to 34,778,590 persons, who live in 7,092,728 houses, giving an average of five persons to each house.

THE Coroner arrested the officers of the Staten Island ferry boat company in New York yesterday morning and consigned them to the Tombs, refusing to admit them to bail. During the day, however, they were taken out on a writ of habeas corpus and bail was accepted, but in a heavy amount. There are two other cases on hand in which we hope the Coroner's jury will imitate the action of the New York one. The one is at Pittston, Pennsylvania, where seventeen persons were smothered to death in a coal mine; the transiently. Senator Robinson was a class-other is at Portland. When South Carolina proposed secesof others. In the Pittston case there are grave charges of neglect made against the mine inspector and the owners. The horrible accident there but a few weeks ago was whitewashed over and the guilty parties screened, when it was notorious that had the laws of the State been complied with no such accident could have taken sion times, Senator Robinson made a Union place. It is not so clear that in the present case the calamity could have been prevented, but it is certain that the mine was not in the condition required by law, and that there had been wilful neglect. It is only by holding to strict accountability though an old slave-owner, he was elected by all persons who have the care of human life, and punishing them when guilty of United States Senator, and was re-elected destroying it, that any regard for life can be maintained. We care too little for life in this country, and it is a bad indication, for a disregard of human life is always an accompaniment of barbarism. The farther nations advance in civilization, when developing equally and not at single points, the more valuable does life become and the more safeguards and restraints are thrown about it. When a man's life is and powerful defense, he closed his effort not worth much more than a hog's, you with the following striking and beautiful alcan safely put a low estimate on his peo-

We have long admired the enterprise, intelligence and wonderful good taste of make him not, for he will trample upon the the Associated Press agent at Chicago, but to-day words fail to do justice to our rapture. He has placed the country under obligations which must be lasting, and which we fondly trust will be rewarded. It is not often that it falls to the lot of man—particularly, an Associated Press of man-particularly an Associated Press brother. man-to confer upon the world such "a sweet boon' and to place humanity so downed in tears, and against evidence and what must have been their own convictions, brought in a verdict of not guilty.—[Cincinenterprise characteristic of the Associated nati Gaz.

item a week or two after it has happened and telegraphs it over the country, the Chicago artist-he is an artist-procured the astounding intelligence that Schuyler Colfax, our worthy, smiling Vice President, hatl addressed a Sunday School at Winona, Minnesota, on Sunday. Nay, more, with still more astounding enterprise, he procured a copy of the speech and hastened with it to the telegraph office, propelled doubtless by the desire that all lands should at once know the great tidings and rejoice in the fact that our 1 25 worthy, smiling V. P. had addressed a Minnesota Sunday School. How he procured the news we have no means of knowing; at what enormous expense or latigue, after how many hours tedious travel or sleepless watching, we know not. The address was delivered on Sunday. and it reached the Chicago man in time to be sent out on Thursday night. Winona THE English House of Commons has is twenty-four hours ride from Chicago, so the fellow who brought the news down weekly paper, or it may have come by slow freight, but we firmly believe the Chicago man's trusty messenger walked, and if that was not displaying enterprise we should like to know what is. Of the address itself we can say nothing, being so wrapt up in the delight of getting it at all, and so much gratified with the manner of getting it. It looks like a good address. Schuyler is up to that sort of business. It is no new departure for him-He recounts with as much spirit as ever mere local demonstration against Papal his connection with Sunday Schools from infallibility. It began with that impulse, the time his mother led him, a tender but it seems at last to have reached a blossom of three summers, to the infant broader basis. If the report is correct class, to the time when he got old enough to quit going. He also informed the attentive audience that he had laid up a little treasure in heaven, having induced a youth under his care as a teacher to enter the ministry. It was this point we think that found such merit in the Chicago man's eye, and to that history is indebted for the valuable contribution. But the enterprise of the agent becomes more and more astounding upon contemplation. It is wonderful. It is pro-di-gi-ous. An Instrument of Torture.

But despite official precautions, it has been scovered that two new instruments of torture are in vogue at the prison-Sing Sing New York. When a legislative enactmen abolished the use of the shower-bath crucifix and cat-o'-nine-tails in our penal institutions, every humane citizen applauded. It was not thought that instruments of torture equally barbaric would supply their places. Thathis impression was erroneous will be readily conceded, on learning the operations of tha mysterious room so carefully shielded from public observation. In this room is what the prison officers facetiously term "the trapeze." It consists of two thin tarred ropes run over a pulley. A harmless-looking contrivance, yet never fails to drive the color from the face of a convict who expects to feel its power. The ends of these ropes are fastened to the thumbs of the convict is to be punished. Then one pull by Pat Shinness, the convict torturer and the victim is lifted off his feet. As the man dangles in mid-air, his entire weight depending on his thumbs his sufferings are really horrible. The most excruciating pains are felt in every part of his body, and every fibre quivers with keenest agony. The ten-dons of the arms are stretched to their fullest length, and seem like red-hot wires in the man's flesh. Elbow joints and shoulder blades snap as if ready to separate, and the thumbs swollen and black with compressed The professional beggars of the country, point, the miserable wretch, filled with terror, happily sinks into insensibility. released he is generally unable to walk by reason of temporary paralysis.

The rope cuts right into the flesh as soon as a man is swung clear from the floor. Very often a man will faint while hanging. When they get through with a man on the 'trapeze' he frequently gets chucked into a dark Next day he may get hauled out and hung up again.'

A Boy Struck by Electricity from the Ground.

[From the Titusville Herald.] During the thunder shower which passed ver the city Tuesday evening a boy named Willis McClintock, residing with his father, Mr. J. S. McClintock, was struck by lightning. It appears that the whole family, sisting of six persons, were in the kitchen at the time, and the boy was standing in front of the stove, with his father and mother on either side of him. He suddenly bent his knees and said, "Oh, I am gone!" and his parents caught him before he fell. He remained perfectly insensible and rigid for some time. He was immediately stripped, and the calves of both legs were found to be very red, as though they had been scorched by fire. He was bathed in cold water and Dr. Dunn was summoned. Before the doctor arrived, however, he had partially recovered, and complained of great pain in his knees. The physician did not think there was any danger, and the lad was slowly recovering when our reporter visited the house later in the evening. The father of the boy states that he felt a similar shock, which m the distance from the ground to the first ear knock his knees involuntarily together, but no other member of the family perceived it in the slightest degree. The shock was un-accompanied by any bright flash, and is sup-posed to have come through the stove from he ground. The lower extremities of the boy, who is only eleven years old, are par-tially paralyzed and the knees are in a constant state of nervous twitching. He will probably recover from the shock in a few

The matter had been before a coroner's jury and the Grand Jury once before, but was finally dismissed without any satisfactory result. The arrests have caused much excitement in Plainfield, where the Gossetts moved in good society. Mrs. G. is said to have been a very estimable lady.

The Council Meeting. Council met last evening in special sessio with the Mayor in the chair; and all mer bers present except Messrs, Craft, Gimber, Reagan and Heckman. There were also present: B. F. Funk, Mayor; the members of the City Council, Mrs. B. F. Funk, Mrs. H. G. Reeves, Mrs. E. B. Stune, Mrs. M. Martin, Mrs. J. O. Donovan, of Bloomington, Illinois; and Mrs. Austin Brown, Mrs. Captain Wiles and Mrs. Isaac Thalman, of Indianapolis. Mayor Funk upon invitation occupied a seat with Mayor Macauley. The resident physician of Bobbs' Dispensary submitted the following report for the quarter ending July 1, 1871: Number of patients treated at Dispensary, 406; number of visits made, 350; number of prescriptions filled, 985; Number of births, 1; number of deaths, 3; number of post mortem examina-tions made, 43; number vaccinated, 30. An additional appropriation was asked for. The report was received and referred.

The Collimittee on Fire Department re-ported that John S. Hunt, of Richmond, Indiana, was the lowest bidder for a hook and ladder wagon, his bid being $1,500, for the apparatus delivered in this city complete.

Overtaxed Brains.

Our citizens generally are deeply ignorant of the comparatively large number of business men of the city who have been taken to the Insane Asylum at Somerville for treatment of late years. The excitement of trade, resulting in overtaxed brains, or pecuniary losses, has brought this about. Whenever such men disappear from 'Change or the counting room, it is generally given out by their friends that they have gone to Europe for the benefit of their health. A few recover after a considerable period of treatment, but to others the world is ever after a blank book. A good many women, too, of the high cir-cles of life, find here a resting place to linger for a few years, and then go down into the valley. The asylum at comerville was never better patronized than at the present time, men live and die .- [Boston Cor. Chicago Jour.

John T. Ford is a versatile genius, and will the work he has laid out. He will manage the new Baltimore Opera House, now being built by him; the Holliday Street Theater, both in Baltimore; Pike's Opera House, Cincinnati, Ohio, and at the same time direct the movements of several travelling companies, playing Miss Maggle Mitchell, Joseph Jefferson, J. W. Wallack and C. B. Bishop. All of these companies will be upon the road at the same time. In addition to managing all these companies and theaters, he holds the following civil offices in Baltimore, which claim his attention. He is the President of the second branch of the City Council, President of the Union Railroad, member of the Board of Directors of the penitentiary, and a Director of the Fountaia Hotel Stock Com-

Mrs. Vanzandt is a New Yorker, who stole away from us the moment the public discovered what a sensation there was in her voice. On the boards in Italy and London she has become one of the first popular favorites. A fine reception awaits her rentree. Clara Doria is an English girl, daughter of John Barnett, the composer. Her voice be-fits the lighter operas, and she is reputed to have met with enviable success in "Sonnam-bula," "Lucia," "Maria Padilla," "Maria di Rohan," etc. The new tenor, Tom Karl, is not only an angelic vocalist, the rival of Capoul, but also the handsomest type of the degenerate race of Adam. Italian girls, whose taste will not be gainsayed, styled him the Tenor Adonis. No album this side of the water will be complete without his photograph.

The basso profundo, Ellis, is accredited with the most potent organ, and is esteemed a brilliant artist. Mr. and Mrs. Aynsley Cook are well-known London favorites.

The Emperor of Brazil. There was near Professor Huxley, the Emperor of Brazil, who is noted to be one of the raciest, most good humored, and universally intelligent fellows alive. This Emperor was plainly cut out for a savant. He gossips with the naturalists about fish stories, and he tells fish stories proportionately big to that grand river in which he has chiefly observed them. He says that much of his enthusiasm for science is due to Agassiz's visit to him, and he has witten over to Cambridge to request the said Professor to come over here to go with him upon a tour through Switzerland. He arrived here three days ago, and the first thing he did was to buy Scott's "Heart of Midlothian," which he took about under his arm, and read upon all occasions. When he had finished reading it, he got up next moraing at about 5 o'clock, and proceeded to saunter about the old Tolbroth until he had identified all the localities mentioned in Sir Walter's book.—[London Cor. Remedy for Nervous Headache. A well known Kentucky minister, subject to severe spells of nervous headache, was in our office the other day, says an exchange, during one of those attacks. Major Brown, of Mexico, was present, and proposed to re-lieve him in five minutes, which he did most effectually. The following is the preription:

The Philosophy of Croquet Mrs. Stowe makes the characters in one of "Certainly," said Mr. Sydney, rubbing his hands, "and it teaches you just how to manage, use your friends to help yourself along, and croquet them into good positions; use your friends as long as you want them, and then send them to—"

"The devil," said Jim Fellows, who never hesitated to fill up an emphatic blank in the conversation.

"I didn't say that," said Mr. Sydney.
"But you meant it, all the same; and that's the long and short of the phylosophy of the game of life," said Jim.

Does his every-day life shine with the noble endeavors of a trustworthy man?

If you think and desire a companion in your thinking—one who esn unlock the deepest depths of your mind, to what strata of humanity does he belong in the scale of excellence and morality? Is he doing all he can to build up future usefulness and happiness in which you can share and feel blessed? These are questions which the experience of after years makes women weep in bitterness of soul that they were not thought of before they answered "Yes."

Another Ship Canal to the East.

Steamers bound to the Bay of Bengal, via the Suez Canal, after coaling at Galle, are obliged to steam around the eastern side of Ceylon. If they could get through the Gulf of Manar, on the western side of the famed specie island, and which separates the latter from the mainland on the Carnatic, they would save over three hundred and sixty miles. At present this can not be done, owing to a lime of low rocks, called "Adam's Bridge," which swetch across the channel, through which a vessel drawing more than ten feet can not pass. To save the long deteur around the east of Cevlon it is proposed to cut a ship canal through a sand bank near the mainland 250 yards wide, and through Tonitory Point, in the district of Madura. This improvement, it is estimated, would cost but £90,000, and figures are also made to show that a very small tonnage toll would pay good interest on the investment. The New York Commercial Advertiser says that the expenditure required to make the canal is so small, compared with the advantages, that private parties in England are ready to commence the work imme-diately, or as soon as the Government intimates its unwillingness to undertake it. As this probably will not be long deferred, the As work is likely to be shortly under way, and another important curtailment of time and space between the West and the Orient soon be accomplished.

Mrs. Vallandigham.

The Cumberland (Maryland) News says of he death of Mrs. C. L. Vallandigham: "Mrs. Vallandigham was the daughter of Mr. Wm. McMahon, who was one of the earliest and most influential citizens of Cumberland. She was born in the year 1818, and in 1846 she was married to Mr. Vallandigham, and removed to New Lisbon, Ohio; but shortly afterward Mr. Vallandigham took up his residence in Dayton where he lived to the time of his death. After the burial of her husband, Mrs. Vallandigham, accompanied by her son, came to visit her friends in Cun berland, with the hope that her health which was shattered by the distressing death of her husband, might improve by being with her nearest kindred. During the first two weeks succeeding the lamentable occurrence of Mr. Vallandigham's death her reason was much affected, but she had fully recovered afte the lapse of a fortnight, and her mind, up to the hour of her death, was as clear as ever. The immediate cause of her demise was dy sentery, from attacks of which she has been suffering all summer. But a few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Vallandigham were in robust health, with the promise of many years be-fore them. Now both are wrapt in the cold embrace of death, and of the happy family they and their son composed, there is only Charley left—a promising young man, age about seventeen years."

Cheap Novels.

I was speaking the other day to one or two London publishers about an article which ap-peared in the London Daily News on your American system of publishing novels. Here we issue a novel, elegantly bound and gilt, in three volumes, at a price a little more than two dollars and a half a volume, or about eight dollars for the volume. But the public don't buy the books. The great librarians buy a lot and lend them round to the public. As a rule no private buyer ever purchases a three-volume novel. The librarian steps n, a middle man between the publisher and the public. Lately some of the public have begun to grumble at this, and want to know why the works can not be sold as in America and in France, cheaper in the first instance, and directly to the reader: But I am assured that there are not readers enough here to allow the cheap and direct system to pay. The number of people who will buy and would, at any price, is very small; but a great many sill where the street. will subscribe a yearly guinea to a library and so be enabled to read if they like all the novels that appear.—[Justin Macarthy.

The First Tectotaler.

The teetotaler in the kingdom of Great The teetotaler in the kingdom of Great Britain, it appears from an English paper is still living. His name is John King, and he is a Quaker, seventy-five years of age. He has been for many years an employe on the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railroad, but is now superannuated. He has received a silver medal for his merit as teetotaler, and now it is proposed that all the brethern of that ilk in the United Kingdom should contribute a membra a piece as a testimonial to tribute a penny a piece as a testimonial to the old king of teetotalers, thereby provid-ing liberally for his declining years the "cup that cheers, but not inebriates." The worthy old Quaker has not been equally abstinent in all things, having married four times, and living now with a young wife at Ainsdale.

Field gave at Richmond, England, a fortnight since, in honor of the fifth anniversary of laying the Atlantic cable, very interesting facts concerning the telegraph circuit of the world were announced. It seems that during this month Shanghae in China will be connected the new Russian naval station on the Pac. fic, and also with Japan. November will see the completion of a cable between Singapore and Australia. As soon as California and Japan are united, instantaneous communication be tween the five continents will have been ac complished. Mr. Field will doubtless live to see even greater triumphs than this. And to him, too, may be justly ascribed more and more honor daily for the enterprises already completed. Sir Charles Wingfield, in a speec at the above mentioned banquet, stated that Indian submarine telegraphy was greatly in debted to the successful pioneers of the At lantic cables. The Indian enterprise failed in 1859, and it was not until after the Atlantic cable was finished in 1866, that there was courage enough for an attempt to lay a deep sea line between the Isthmus of Suez and Bombay. At the end of the present year the "Telegraph Construction Company" will have laid down 19,500 miles of cable, involv

During the first six months of last year, During the first six months of last year, the shipment of Missouri pig iron, blooms, etc., from St. Louis, amounted to 11,645 tons. During a corresponding period this year there were shipped 29,072 tons, showing an increase of 17,437 tons.

The Ironton and Lawrence mills, Ohio, are running full force, notwithstanding the fact that there is but little demand for manufactured iron. Both mills are in good repair and will run all the summer if a reasonable demand is maintained. The prospect at this time, however, we are told, is not propitious.
